Welcome Bags Available

The Fairmill Welcome Association (FWA) has decided on an exciting gift for new residents: a reusable shopping bag filled with information about the town of Fairmill. These cloth bags, which will have "Celebrate Fairmill" printed across the front, will be filled with community updates, coupons, and home-baked treats from association members. Local businesses interested in helping to fund this project can pay to have their logos printed on the back of the bags. Fairmill residents are encouraged to welcome their new neighbors by personally delivering these bags to each household. To sign up, please go online to visit our updated community Web site at fairmillwa.org.

25- Where would the article most likely appear ?

- A. In a design magazine
- B. In a travel journal
- C. In a financial newspaper
- D. In a community newsletter

26- How can local businesses support the project ?

- A. By providing free samples
- B. By making reusable products
- C. By purchasing advertising space
- D. By offering free services

27- According to the article, what are Fairmill residents asked to do ?

- A. Distribute greeting materials
- B. Design a new town logo
- C. Shop at local stores
- D. Submit their favorite recipes

Ann Novak [1:31 P.M.]

Hello, everyone. Last week when we met, I asked you to come up with strategies to bring attention to the community garden program. Does anyone have progress to report?

Jay Goodwin [1:32 P.M.]

I reached out to Stuart Chan of City Wide Now, the local newspaper. You probably know his "City Living" column.

Mike Louden [1:33 P.M.]

The one that runs on Mondays? I never miss it!

Jay Goodwin [1:34 P.M.]

He has a large online following, too. He'd like to interview me for an upcoming issue. So that's happening next week.

Ann Novak [1:34 P.M.]

Wonderful. Will you talk about the community garden in general?

Jay Goodwin [1:35 P.M.]

I explained to Stuart that we are surveying members of the garden about issues regarding access to water. So he wants to focus on that.

Mike Louden [1:36 P.M.]

Lori and I are writing up the survey results. Ann, I'm getting ready to send you a draft. As soon as you have approved it, I can post it on our Web site.

Ann Novak [1:37 P.M.]

OK. I'll look it over this afternoon.

28- What is indicated about Ms. Novak ?

- A. She missed last week's meeting
- B. She as just returned from a trip
- C. She does not like Mr. Goodwin's idea
- D. She gave her colleagues an assignment

29- Who is Mr. Chan ?

- A. A city official
- B. A local reporter
- C. A job candidate
- D. An expert gardener

30- At 1 :33 P.M., what does Mr. Louden most likely mean when he writes, « I never miss it » ?

- A. He enjoys participating in community activities
- B. He always meets projects deadlines
- C. He subscribes to City Wide Now
- D. He reads a column regularly
